What can NAMI do for you?

NAMI is dedicated to improvement in the care, treatment and quality of life of those living with chronic mental illness. Through self-help and education, NAMI is able to help families learn how to cope with the reality of mental illness. NAMI Wichita provides two uniquely different twice-monthly meetings. Unless otherwise noted, meetings are held on the first and third Tuesday nights of each month at the First Presbyterian Church, 525 N. Broadway. Parking and entrance are from the church parking lot off Market Street.

1st Tuesday night - 7:00 P.M. – Education/Affiliate Meeting.

As a collective voice we are a strong force for positive change in the mental health system. At this meeting, we have the opportunity to learn through a variety of educational programs. We learn about local, state and national issues in areas including advocacy and research for brain disorders.

3rd Tuesday night - 6:00 P.M. – “Ask the Doctor”.

The meeting on the third Tuesday night of the month is divided into two sessions. Two Residents in Psychiatry at KUMC are present from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. for an “Ask the Doctor” session. The Doctors are available to offer professional insight on medications, diagnosis, treatments and other concerns.

3rd Tuesday night - 7:00 P.M. - Family Support Group.

This group meets immediately following the “Ask the Dr.” session and provides a special opportunity for family members and other loved ones of persons living with mental illness to connect with those who share common experiences and concerns. This meeting is conducted in a support group setting and is facilitated by a trained family member.

3rd Tuesday night - 7:00 P.M. - NAMI Connection Recovery Support Group. This group meets immediately following the “Ask the Dr.” session and is for persons living with mental illness. Facilitators are specially trained and are peers living in recovery.

4th Tuesday night – 6:30 P.M. – Share and Care Combined Support Group which meets at College Hill United Methodist Church, 2930 East 1st Street North in Wichita. This support group allows persons living with mental illness, their family members and friends to share with and learn from each other. The meeting structure is informal and everyone is welcome.

2nd Monday night – 7 P.M. – Grupo de Apoyo – NAMI. Un grupo de apoyo de carácter confidencial y anónimo para los familiares y seres queridos de personas que viven con condiciones de salud mental. El grupo se reúne arriba en el Centro Parroquial Nuestra Señora de la Salud Perpetua, 2409 North Market, Wichita, KS 67219. Contacto Maria Lopez, rosary90011@gmail.com or (316) 559-5387.

Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)

Many children with a diagnosed or suspected mental illness experience difficulties in school. It is very important for parents to be aware of the special educational services that public schools are required to provide. IDEA is the law that defines special education as “specially designed instruction, at no cost to the parents, to meet the unique needs of a child with a disability.” Children with disabilities are entitled to a “free and appropriate public education” (FAPE).

The main function of IDEA is to identify the educational needs of children who are experiencing difficulties in the academic environment. To qualify for special education services, a child must be evaluated and be determined to fall under one of IDEA’s 13 disability categories. Most children who are struggling with a mental illness, ADHD, bipolar disorder, depression, anxiety disorder, OCD, etc., will fall under the Emotional Disturbance (ED) category or Other Health Impaired category. The child may also have a learning disability that would be included in the Specific Learning Disability category.

If the child qualifies, a team, which includes school professionals and the child’s parents, will meet to develop an Individual Education Plan (IEP). This plan should describe the child’s unique needs and the classroom accommodations or supports, with measurable goals and objectives that will help the child progress in the educational curriculum.

A child who receives special education services cannot be suspended from school for more than 10 days in a school year; nor can the child be expelled if the behavior is determined to be a manifestation of the disability. There are certain behaviors for which a child’s placement can be changed to an “interim alternative educational setting” which must provide FAPE for up to 45 days while evaluations are being done to determine what accommodations the child needs to be safe and successful in school.

Section 504

If a child has a disability, but does not need special education, the child may be able to receive helpful accommodations under Section 504, a civil rights law that prohibits discrimination against individuals with disabilities. Every child is entitled to a Free and Appropriate Public Education (FAPE).

Section 504 assures that whatever disabilities children have, physical or mental accommodations must be made so they can learn with their peers. Building and classroom modifications can be made and the curriculum can be altered to fit the need.

The Every Student Succeeds Act of 2015, concerning the education of all children in U.S. public schools, advances equity by upholding critical protections for America’s disadvantaged and high-need students and requires—for the first time—that all students in America be taught to high academic standards that will prepare them to succeed in college and careers. Among other things, it also helps to support and grow local innovations, including evidence-based and place-based interventions developed by local leaders and educators and maintains an expectation that there will be accountability and action to effect positive change in our lowest-performing schools.

Information about special education law and advocacy can be viewed at www.wrightslaw.com.

Section I – Understanding the Mental Health System

Chapter 1

What is Mental Illness?

Mental illnesses are disorders of the brain that are often unidentified, untreated and misunderstood. The stigma attached to mental illness adds to the difficulties faced by the person with mental illness and his/her family. One of NAMI's functions is to educate the public and demystify mental illness in the hope of decreasing the stigma.

It is important to know that with appropriate medical treatment, a community-based support system and informed family and friends many people with mental illness can lead productive and healthy lives. We call this RECOVERY!

Because mental illness is a brain disorder, diagnosis by a psychiatrist or a qualified mental health professional is essential. A psychiatrist has a medical degree (M.D.) and a three-year residency in psychiatry. Psychiatrists and Advance Practice Registered Nurses are the only mental health specialists qualified to prescribe psychiatric medication. Once a proper diagnosis has been made and medical regimen implemented, if warranted, a psychological-social treatment plan can be designed.

Because mental illness is usually a long-term disorder, consumers of mental health services have special needs. This directory has been published to help the members of our community who are living with mental illness, their family members and friends and community mental health professionals. It is designed to help locate the resources in our community that will best meet their needs. Many of the services are billed on a sliding scale based on ability to pay, or are available without cost to eligible mental health consumers.

Grievances over Treatment

If you think the person with mental illness or the family is not being treated fairly and adequately there are several steps you may take.

1. Discuss the problem with the mental health professional.
2. If the mental health professional does not take you seriously or blames you for the problem, report this to the person who made the referral. If the mental health professional is in an agency, report to the supervisor.
3. Terminate the treatment.

If the problem appears to be a gross violation of ethics or law, arm yourself with the facts and consider contacting the following agency.

Involuntary Commitment

Commitment Procedure

Contact the mental health professional working with the patient involved to determine if that person supports the petition process and learn what you need to do as the petitioner. COMCARE of Sedgwick County can be contacted at 660-7500.

Or call:

The Office of the District Attorney, Eighteenth Judicial District
(316) 660-3600

Filing a Petition:

Contact the District Attorney's office to learn about the commitment process. The District Attorney will refer a petitioner to Comcare to start the process. After evaluation, the District Attorney may ask that the petitioner prove that the patient is a person subject to involuntary commitment, provide the name of the physician who will evaluate and treat the patient and provide the name of the treatment facility where the patient has been admitted. The District Attorney also may require confirmation that a bed has been reserved for the patient at a treatment facility and know exactly where to locate the patient so that they may be taken into custody and transported to the facility where the bed has been reserved.

Rights of Person Being Committed

1. The person being committed (patient) shall be represented by an attorney.
 - The court will appoint an attorney to represent the patient
 - Or
 - The patient may hire a private attorney to represent them.

2. The patient is entitled to a probable cause hearing that is to be held on the second business day after the filing of the petition. The patient shall be released if the court finds that the patient is not a person subject to involuntary commitment.
3. By law, if the court finds that there is probable cause to believe that the patient is a person subject to involuntary commitment, a trial hearing will be set 7 days after the probable cause hearing unless the court decides to advance the case and proceed without a hearing. The patient must be evaluated by a qualified mental health professional at least 3 days prior to the trial date.
4. The patient at any time may request that the court proceedings be continued for not more than three months so that they may enter into a short-term inpatient or outpatient treatment program. If treatment is successful, the patient's doctor may discharge the patient from treatment at any time and the court case will be closed. If short-term treatment is not successful, the patient's doctor may request the court to order the patient into continued treatment and a trial hearing may be held. The court may then order the patient to receive continued involuntary inpatient or outpatient treatment for a set amount of time.

Privacy Act/Right to Confidentiality

An adult who is being committed is not obligated to tell anyone – family members, employers, etc. – if or where he or she has been committed. An exception would be a personal guardians/s or a court appointed guardian, who would have certain rights to that kind of information.

Contacting a Person Who Has Been Committed

If your family member has been committed, you can visit them if you know the treatment facility in which they are placed and the patient does not object to your visiting them.

To find out where the person has been committed:

Call each facility and ask that a message be forwarded to have the patient contact you.

Chapter 7

Financial, Food, Medical, and Other Resource Help

Money, food and health care costs are problems for most people who are recovering from a long-term, disabling mental illness. If you are unable to work, or your ability to work is limited, federal and state government financial, food, and health care aid programs are available to help you.

Your case manager should help you obtain the aid you need. If you are in a hospital, your discharge plan should make your move back into your home community easier. As a part of your plan, you may apply for some financial assistance and get a decision before you leave the hospital.

Financial Assistance

- SSDI – Social Security Disability Insurance – A program for disabled workers who have worked a certain amount of time and paid enough into the Disability Trust Fund to get financial benefits.
- SSI – Supplemental Security Income – A “needs” program, not based on work history, for disabled people with limited incomes and few other resources. It is also available for children and the aged who are not disabled.
- TANF – Temporary Assistance for Needy Families – Cash assistance, also known as TANF, helps adults with their problems in getting a job, provides support services for work, training, work activities, and education and helps families learn new skills, build on their current abilities, and keep children in their homes.
Call 1-888-369-4777
- Child Care Subsidy Program – Assistance in paying for child care costs. It helps many types of families. These include the following:
 - Families who receive TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) - This program helps these families get and keep jobs.
 - Low-income, working families.
 - Some families in education or training activities - This provides help for keeping a job or getting a better job.
 - Teen parents completing high school or GED.Call 1-888-369-4777

Medical Assistance

- Medicare – A Federally financed health insurance and prescription drug program for persons who are elderly or disabled and who are insured under the Social Security program. For anyone needing assistance with navigating through Medicare, contact Senior Health Insurance Counseling for Kansas (SHICK) under the Kansas Department of Aging. 1-800-860-5260.
- KanCare/Medicaid – The KanCare program is the State of Kansas’ managed care program. KanCare is provided to all Medicaid consumers. Kansas has contracted with three health plans, or managed care organizations (MCOs), to coordinate health care for nearly all beneficiaries. The KanCare health plans are Amerigroup of Kansas, Inc., Sunflower Health Plan and United Healthcare Community Plan of Kansas.
- Spendedown – A spenddown works like an insurance deductible. Persons must incur medical costs equal to the spenddown before Medicaid will pay. When a person meets his or her spenddown, Medicaid will pay. The spenddown is usually for a six-month base period. The spenddown amount is based on income. Any person with income over $475 will have a spenddown. Almost every person has a different spenddown amount.
